

Mining Industry HR Council Overview and Challenges

Overview

The Mining Industry Human Resources Council (MiHR) is an independent, non-profit organization that leads collaboration among mining and exploration companies, organized labour, contractors, educational institutions, industry associations and Indigenous groups to identify and address the human resource and labour market challenges facing the Canadian minerals and metals sector. With a mission to lead collaboration across the Canadian mining sector to understand labour market trends, identify opportunities, and develop solutions, MiHR aims to an inclusive, skilled and sustainable Canadian mining workforce that anticipates and adapts to volatility and innovation.

Challenges

Accordion: start copy

Challenge 1

Preparing for the green economy

How can the Mining Industry HR Council portray mining as a career option in the green economy?

Next steps

1. Complete enrolment survey. This survey is mandatory and failure to complete may result in ineligibility to compete.
2. Enroll here

Challenge 2

Diversifying the workforce

How can the mining sector move the needle on diversity and inclusion in order to support a more diversified workforce?

Next steps

1. Complete enrolment survey. This survey is mandatory and failure to complete may result in ineligibility to compete.
2. Enroll here

Accordion: end copy

Activity Details

You have viewed this topic